

Luthemba Lethu Community Project

We would like to extend our heartfelt gratitude for your ongoing support and commitment to the vision of LLCP. Your partnership means so much more than financial assistance — it is an investment into the growth, guidance, and future of young people who need hope, structure, and positive influence.

Through your generosity, we are able to continue creating opportunities where learners are mentored, encouraged, and equipped through our school programmes and camps. The stories and moments shared in this newsletter reflect the meaningful impact that your support is making possible.

Together, we are not only running programmes; we are helping to build stronger communities, confident young leaders, and brighter futures. Thank you for walking this journey with us and for believing in the difference we can make together.

Expanding Impact Through Education and Law Enforcement Partnerships

LLCP's partnership with both the South African Police Service and the education department has taken our work to new levels, allowing us to become increasingly effective within primary schools.

Our second Disciplinary Camp has shown significant impact, with a 90% success response following up from the strong outcomes of our first camp. This growth reflects the consistency and effectiveness of the programmes being implemented. Principal Alwyn Snyman of Laerskool Kreft Primary has been actively involved, including personally fetching learners from the campsite, demonstrating exceptional commitment and leadership. In addition, two follow-up programmes with our life coaches have already taken place since the camp, ensuring that the work continues beyond the camp environment.

We are also encouraged by the growing interest from other schools, with Birch Acres Primary School reaching out to request a similar programme, and Aston Manor Primary School planning to send all their prefects next month for a dedicated leadership follow-up camp. We are excited to see new doors opening consistently and are grateful for the expanding opportunities to serve and impact more learners.

Reflection, Connection and Parental Engagement

Valdi shared a powerful reflection question: "What are the things holding you back?" highlighting how personal burdens can affect focus, behaviour, and often lead to frustration toward others. Learners also enjoyed a marshmallow braai activity, creating moments of connection and bonding alongside the South African Police Service Youth Desk.

On Sunday after the camp, a follow-up meeting was held with parents at the school to encourage and challenge them to take up their role in discipline and consistency at home, helping to support teachers so they can focus on teaching and classroom development.

Father and Son Camp at Shangri-La Academy

One of our life coaches, Mak, hosted a Father and Son Camp at Shangri-La Academy, creating a space for fathers and sons to reconnect, communicate, and strengthen their relationships. The camp focused on trust, understanding, and positive leadership within the family.

Through activities and reflection, participants were encouraged to build healthier connections and recognise the important role fathers play in shaping confidence and character in young boys.

Feedback from parents and learners was very positive, with many highlighting the value it added to their relationships at home. LLCP remains committed to strengthening families and building strong foundations for the next generation.

Team Building Event with SAPS Kempton Park

This month, LLCP hosted a team-building event at our campsite with Colonel Lesomo and her team from Kempton Park Police Station. Christian facilitated a practical team challenge that encouraged teamwork and unity between participants.

The day included a braai, a time of encouragement from Scripture, and prayer together, with several pastors also joining the event. It was a meaningful time of connection, strengthening relationships between LLCP, SAPS, and community leaders.
